

EXTEND ROBBINS STAR MAIL ROUTE

Change Takes Place Nov. 1—More Patrons Will Be Served By Carrier

The Robbins Star Route will be changed November 1. The carrier will leave Rhinelander at 7 o'clock in the morning, go north over the Pine Lake road to the Felix Staza school, then retrace to the Stefonic school and from there to the Robbins postoffice arriving there by 11:45 A. M. He will leave for Rhinelander on the return trip at 12:45 P. M. by the Tripp store, and arrive in Rhinelander at 4:45 P. M.

This change has been allowed by the Postoffice Department at Washington, prominent democrats and several prominent citizens of the county having been influential in the movement.

Bids for carrying mail on this route will be received by the Fourth Assistant Postmaster at Washington, D. C. up to October 17, 1916.

The carrier will be allowed to carry passengers, freight, and baggage for pay, and by having permanent headquarters in the city, with telephone connection, should work up a good business. Bids for bidders may be had at the Postoffice.

WALTONEN TRIES DARING ESCAPE

It is probable that Arthur Waltonen, the twenty-eight-year-old Finn, who was arrested one day last week at Ironwood and who was being taken to New York by detectives to answer a murder charge, will not survive injuries which he sustained when he leaped from a New York Central passenger train near Harmon, N. J., while being taken to New York.

Waltonen was arrested after being recognized by Dr. Anderson, an Ironwood physician. He was a member of a party of four young men that murdered Mrs. Elizabeth Nichols, a wealthy New York woman a year ago. While enroute to New York Waltonen, pleaded with the two detectives, Edwight and Fogarty, for permission to smoke. He was taken to the rear platform of the train and after rolling a cigarette suddenly struck one of the detectives knocking him against the other and leaped head first from the platform.

The train was brought to a stop and Waltonen was found in a ditch beside the tracks severely injured. He was brought to Harmon and was immediately taken to a hospital. At the hospital it was found that he was suffering from a possible fracture of the skull and internal injuries. He was unconscious when picked up and his condition is said to be serious.

LA FOLLETTE MAY SPEAK HERE SOON

That Rhinelander is included in Senator Robert M. LaFollette's coming speaking campaign through northern Wisconsin is the information which originates from Madison. The Senator will speak in this city in the near future according to advices.

The Senator will speak in northern Wisconsin within the next few weeks. He will go into Marinette, Oconto, Price, Taylor, Rusk, Barron, Washburn, Bayfield, Douglas, Burnett and Polk, concluding the schedule arranged before his primary, and interrupted by his being called back to Washington.

Most of the trip will be made by automobile except in the sparsely settled communities, where it will be necessary to go by rail.

Mrs. D. Kirk, who for ten days was confined to her bed with La Grippe, is able to be out again.

CO. L BOYS ARE IN GOOD HEALTH

Army Physicians Say Physical Condition Of Troops Is Excellent

Relatives and friends of Co. L, now in San Antonio, Texas, will be pleased to learn that according to a report just issued by army physicians the boys are in excellent physical condition, in fact are more healthy than they probably would have been at home.

Very few cases of sickness have been reported among the men from Wisconsin and those who have been compelled to undergo treatment have been troubled only with minor maladies and have not been laid up more than a few days at a time.

The following is the report made by division commanders for the month of August:

"First—The health record for the Wisconsin brigade for the month of August, 1916, as shown by the sanitary statistics is so good that it is desired to take official cognizance of the fact. The first Wisconsin infantry showed an average on sick report of only about 5 per 1,000, from both illness and injury. The third Wisconsin infantry had an average of a little over 2 per 1,000 and there were two days with no one on sick report and six days with only one case. The second Wisconsin infantry for the 19 days reported showed a rate on sick report equivalent to 1 per 2,000. Between Aug. 22 and Sept. 1, this last regiment had only four cases admitted to sick reports, all of which returned to duty within 24 hours. In these eight days there were six in which it did not have a single case on sick report. These three regiments aggregate a strength of about 3,650 men.

"Second—The sick report of the smaller Wisconsin organizations showed a similar freedom from illness and injury.

"Third—The Wisconsin troops are doubtless in better health than they would have enjoyed had they remained at home."

INDIANS HOLD FAIR

A large number of business men, chiefly members of the Rhinelander Advancement association, will be in Lac du Flambeau Friday and Saturday in attendance at the annual Indian fair. Many will make the trip to the reservation in autos. The Indians, it is understood, have arranged for a big fair this year, which in every respect will eclipse last year's exhibition. There will be a fine showing of farm produce, live stock and domestic articles and the Indian school will also have a display. Within the last few years the Indians have been devoting much time and effort to agricultural pursuits and as a result some good farms are being developed on the reservation.

The amusement features of the fair will comprise Indian games and contests of all kinds, pony races and dances. Music will be furnished by the Indians.

FEW WANT TO WED

"Nothing doing in the marriage license business," said County Clerk J. J. Verage Wednesday to a New North reporter. "Guess the high cost of living has put a scare into prospective bridegrooms and they are postponing the happy event until flour, potatoes, sugar and other staple necessities hit the toboggan."

"However, we are disposing of many hunting licenses," continued Mr. Verage, "and it looks as though the sale will be larger than that of last year."

NEW WAREHOUSE

A new potato warehouse is being built by the Hartman Fruit & Produce company in this city. The structure is located just west of the Soo line freight depot on Thayer street. It will be built of cement and stucco. The Soo line is extending a side track to the building.

The Hartman Fruit & Produce company is a St. Louis concern and for the last few years has been heavy dealers in Wisconsin potatoes. George Clark has charge of the company's interests in this section.

ONEIDA POTATOES SCORE FIRST AT STATE FAIR

The men who were in charge of the Oneida county exhibit at the State Fair have returned and pronounced it one of the best State Fairs ever held. The attractions were clean, racing, both horses and automobile of high class and the attendance a record breaker. The entries of live stock were large and some of the best animals in the show ring today were on exhibit. The swine exhibit was especially fine. The quality of the county exhibits was also much better than in other years. In this class 27 counties competed for high honors. Marathon county won first; Wood, second and Langlade third. Oneida was given ninth place as compared with fourteenth last year. Oneida county again received the distinction of having the highest score in potatoes of the 27 counties competing. Oneida's weakest point is in numbers of varieties of fruit. Fifteen different varieties of apples are required for a full score and we had but four. The fruit we did have was mostly from the farm of Paul Browne and very fine. Many visitors admired his exhibit and wondered at its having been produced so far north. The general score card will undergo a considerable change between now and next year's fair and with different requirements for fruit, Oneida county can be assured of a place much nearer the top.

The fact that we scored highest in potatoes of all competing counties is worth a great deal to this county. It shows we can still hold our own in the potato game.

Besides winning first in potatoes in the county exhibit, F. S. Campbell of Three Lakes and Herman Schoeneck of Enterprise captured four firsts in the individual entries. Mr. Campbell received first on Cobblers and Triumphs and Mr. Schoeneck first on Green Mountain and Early Rose. Mr. Schoeneck also took three seconds and one third in potatoes. Considering the fact that half the first prizes offered in potatoes went to Oneida county we again have reason to be proud.

Mr. Schoeneck also did fine with the grains and grasses he had on exhibit. With these he won six firsts, two seconds, two thirds and a fourth. The judge pronounced his samples of marrow fat peas the best he had ever seen.

More men should follow Mr. Schoeneck's example. There is work connected with it of course but the satisfaction of winning together with the cash prize and the boost to ones county is more than enough to repay. Next year the county should be represented by many growers.

One has only to see the almost endless line of people passing by the county exhibits to realize how important such an exhibit is. In the course of the week thousands of people stop at the booth, look over our products, express their surprise at "stuff being grown so far north" and ask numerous questions concerning the agricultural possibilities of our county.

Next year we want to have a more complete and better display. We won't be satisfied until we can carry home the blue ribbon given to the county with the best display.

BIG ENROLLMENT IN CITY SCHOOLS

High School Has 269 Students With Prospects Of Further Increase

The city schools are running regularly with the largest enrollment in their history. There are in the various grades the following number of children. Kindergartens 145; First grades 166; Second grades 114; Third grades 111; Fourth grades 111; Fifth grades 115; Sixth grades 90; Seventh grades 92; Eighth grades 72; Making a total of 966 of which 470 are boys and 496 are girls. There are 269 students in the high school at present of whom 95 are Freshmen, 71 Sophomores, 51 Juniors, 49 Seniors. There are 103 boys and 116 girls altogether. This makes the entire enrollment for the schools for this week 1230, of which 578 are boys and 650 are girls.

All children in the city between the ages of 7 and 14 should be in school, and those who are between the ages of 14 and 16, must attend unless they have permits to work. Permits which were granted last year are void now, and those who stay out to work must secure new ones.

Secretary Harbach of the Milwaukee School Board and Mr. Raasch, Chairman of the Building Committee, of the same board, visited the High school Monday forenoon. While here they commented favorably on the building and ways of beautifying the grounds. They also conferred with the Superintendent concerning several improvements needed and gave some excellent advice on the changes to be bought about. These gentlemen are touring northern Wisconsin in a car with two other Milwaukee men.

TWO BIG DAYS

There are two dates which every farmer and every person interested in farming should remember: One is Oct. 13, the date of the big stumping demonstration to be held at the old Crofoot farm near Rhinelander and the other is Oct. 26, the date of our annual county potato show.

Farmers should plan now to save some of their very choicest potatoes for our county spud show and by so doing help win again at our state potato show.

Particulars of both the Stumping Demonstration and Potato Show will be given out next week.

A new glass front is being placed in the Leader Store on Brown St.

GREAT CORN CROP IN THIS COUNTY

Yield Is Best In Many Years—Farmers Are Saving Seed Corn

(W. D. Juday)

Oneida county has had the best corn crop in years. Many large fields of the earlier varieties are well matured. It is from these ripened fields that the large quantities of seed corn should be saved. No one doubts that seed corn, ripened in our own county, is far superior to any seed corn that can be shipped in and for this reason every farmer intending to grow corn next year should either make arrangements to save seed from his field this fall or else get it from some neighbor farmer who has a better matured crop. Each farmer too should save several times as much seed as he will need for next year's planting. In this way he will still have seed for later planting even though we get no ripe corn next year.

In getting seed corn in this county the important thing to remember is to fire dry it. The corn in northern Wisconsin has such a high percentage of moisture that freezing weather will burst the germ, providing this excess moisture is not driven off. After being thoroughly dried by a fire and put in a dry place. Seed corn will not be injured by freezing.

Many farmers think that unless corn is well ripened it will not make good seed, but this is not true. Corn well glazed if thoroughly dried out will make very good seed. The kernels will shrivel somewhat in drying, but a germination test will show them to be as vigorous as kernels that may have been well matured.

The two important things to remember then are to select plenty—several times as much as you will need for next year and then fire dry every ear in a well ventilated room. Then put in a dry place and you will not need worry about seed corn for a long time.

RETIRED ON PENSION

W. F. Welker, former assistant superintendent of the Ashland division of the Northwestern railroad, and who was transferred to Belle Plaine, Iowa, several months ago, has been retired by the road on a pension after forty years of service.

F. E. Andrews and wife of Wausau spent Friday at the home of H. E. Osborne on Philip street. The couple made the trip with a Harley Davidson motorcycle and side car. They left Saturday morning for Boulder Junction.

PINKERTON MAN NABS EMBEZZLER

H. H. Dougherty, Wanted For Looting Gary Bank, Found At Twin Lake

H. H. Dougherty, alias Mr. Dawson, teller at the Gary, Ind., State Bank, wanted by Gary authorities for embezzling $3500 of the bank's funds, was taken into custody Saturday by Sheriff Hall and Detective C. A. Rhode of the Pinkerton force, Chicago, upon information given by Jerry Holland of Phelps.

Dougherty, according to report, was about $1500 short when his vacation became due. Knowing his accounts would be audited before he left, he took $2000 more and departed on the first train for parts unknown, landing at the Andrew Hansen resort on Little Twin lake about two weeks ago. There he enjoyed his vacation, fishing and rustling in general, with Burt Bakke as his guide, apparently secure from the authorities.

However, C. A. Rhode of the Pinkerton force came northward shortly afterward and began enjoying the beauties of the North Woods in September at the various resorts incidentally doing a still hunt for Mr. Dougherty. Through local information he became a guest at Hansen's resort and actually allowed himself to be photographed with a prize fish by the man for whom he was searching.

The arrest was made Saturday and the prisoner brought down to the county jail at Eagle River. C. Johnson, detective sergeant of Gary, Ind., arrived Monday. Tuesday they took Dougherty to Gary. He had $1700 on his person when taken. Dougherty had been married a year.—Vilas County News.

ELKS ENJOY BIG CHICKEN SPREAD

About sixty members of Rhinelander lodge 598, B. P. O. E. congregated at C. A. Conno's cottage on Moen's lake Sunday where they partook of a delicious old fashioned "boon yaw", the chief ingredient of which was chicken. The chow was prepared by Chef W. E. Vaughan, ably assisted by Fred Annen, and the way those hungry Elks fell to was good to see. Although the chicken and trimmings were piled high they soon disappeared and it is even said that some of the herd later scraped the kettles.

Following the feed the jolly bunch indulged in song and story and Mons. Paul Gaston put on his famous "Uncle Tom's Cabin" production, which, needless to add scored a tremendous hit.

W. E. Vaughan is known to be an efficient gas man and as a salesman Fred Annen holds high rank, but it was not known until Sunday that they are also skilled cooks and the Elks extend them a vote of thanks for the tempting spread which they served.

MANY HERE GET PENSION RAISE

A number of Rhinelander and Oneida county widows of former soldiers will benefit by the new law passed by congress just before its adjournment raising these widows' pensions all over the United States.

There are about 700 widows of the civil war veterans in Wisconsin who will receive pensions under the new act, according to H. W. Rood, in charge of the Wisconsin G. A. R. headquarters at Madison. The new bill raises the monthly pension for widows of civil war veterans from $12 to $20 and also applies to widows of civil war veterans who subsequently remarried and whose later husbands have since died. It also provides for widows who, remarrying, have become divorced from their second husbands through no fault of their own.

According to the former law, veterans' widows who remarried subsequent to June 27, 1890 were denied pension rights but this time, under the new law, has been extended to Sept. 6, 1916.

Widows of veterans of other wars, such as the Mexican and the war of 1812, also profit by the provisions of the new law. The law applies only to widows who have reached the age of 70 years.

YOUNG LIFE IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Delmar A. Moe Succumbs In Wausau Hospital After Three Weeks Illness

In the death of Delmar A. Moe, which occurred Thursday last in St. Mary's hospital in Wausau, Rhinelander loses one of its most highly esteemed young men. Mr. Moe had been confined in the hospital three weeks, the nature of his illness being ulcers of the intestines. He underwent two operations, one on August 28 and the other on September 9. Both operations appeared to be successful and apparently the patient was resting easily. When his physician and loved ones were beginning to hope for the best, peritonitis developed which soon terminated in his death. Mrs. Moe, who had been constantly at her husband's bedside for two weeks, was with him when the end came.

Delmar A. Moe was born in Stevens Point, May 30, 1883. For about fifteen years he had made his home in Rhinelander and for thirteen years held a position as machine operator with the Wisconsin Veneer company. On September 8, 1909 he was united in marriage to Miss Anna Swedberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Swedberg of this city. Three children blessed this union, John, Daniel and Edward, who with their mother survive. Deceased also leaves his father, who resides in Sand Point, Idaho, and a sister in Tonopah, Nevada.

The funeral was conducted Sunday afternoon from the Swedish Lutheran church, Rev. C. J. Silverstein officiating. The members of the I. O. O. F. and F. B. A. lodges, to which Mr. Moe belonged, attended the funeral in a body and escorted the remains to their final resting place in Forest Home cemetery.

Mr. Moe was a young man of real worth, a kind husband and father and a true friend. His sad death is received with deep regret throughout the city. To the sorrowing wife and children the heartfelt sympathy of the community is extended.

TWELVE WISH TO BECOME CITIZENS

Judge A. H. Reid Will Hear Applications In This City Monday Afternoon

When Oneida county circuit court convenes next Monday afternoon, September 25, Judge A. H. Reid will pass on the applications of twelve foreign born residents for citizenship papers. A representative of the United States government will probably be present and assist in the examination of applicants.

The list of applicants for naturalization is small this time compared with recent lists, which in some instances have been more than double.

REPAIR MAIL DAMAGE

The Postmaster General has issued orders requiring postmasters throughout the United States to comply with the new law regarding the damage of registered or insured articles under transmission through the mails. The order reads as follows:

"Heretofore the payment of indemnity on account of injury has been restricted to irreparable damage to articles contained in registered, insured and C. O. D. parcels. Under the amended regulations payment will be made in cases where articles are not rendered worthless for the actual, usual, direct and necessary cost of repairs required to place them in a serviceable condition."

RECALLS EARLY DAYS ON RIVER

Frank Blood, Old Riverman, Known To Many Here, Lives Near Dancy

Early residents along the Wisconsin river, a number of whom now reside in Rhinelander, will remember Frank Blood, an old time riverman who in the days of the "big timber" was a picturesque figure up and down the river. Those who recall this quaint character, and they are many, will read with interest the following from the Wausau Pilot:

The old rivermen are fast disappearing, dropping from sight so quickly and unobtrusively that their passing is hardly noted, and the glory of the "Old Wisconsin" as the great artery of commerce over which our lumber was once carried to market, is but an indistinct memory among the older settlers and a condition unknown to the newer ones. For years the railroad almost obliterated the river and its history. The automobile bids fair to revive it, and in doing so occasionally brings to light one of the old pilots or raftsmen who, before the advent of the railroad rode upon its bosom and braved its dangers.

The old river road from Wausau to Stevens Point is not traveled as much as it should be by automobilists, and this for the reason that the long sandy stretches of road between Knowlton and Stevens Point have had a tendency to discourage travel in that direction. Some of the more adventurous drivers, some whose knowledge of the country is wider, have abandoned the old east side road and taken the road through Dancy, crossing the river at that point. It is a mile or two further but the change is worth while, as in that part of the county are to be found some of the finest roads imaginable, and which ultimately connect with the famous Yellowstone route. The trip also brings to view the finest agricultural section in Marathon county, our real corn belt.

After leaving Dancy, if one will hug the old river road, which by the way is being turnpiked and gravelled, he will not only have a splendid view of the river, but at a point half way between Knowlton and the Point, he may discover the habitat of one of the old rivermen, Franklin A. Blood, a cook, whose fame in early days reached from Trapp to St. Louis, a witty, genial soul. To find his place you will have to watch closely. His little cabin is located just opposite the "Half Way Island." As you go south a bend in the road almost hides the place from view. As nearly as possible Blood has retained about his place the flavor of the river, the cookery of the "wascos," the riverman's awning covered table, and best of all, his old time skill in baking beans, making bread and frying or boiling chicken. Here the knowing ones tie up their machines to eat an old-fashioned riverman's dinner, something which not alone tickles the palate, but sticks to the ribs, while the erstwhile riverman regales them with tales and experiences of the river life of more than half a century ago.

Frank Blood was well known in this city in the early days. He went down river on many rafts, and while he is 76 years old now, he is as cheerful and as good company as he had the reputation for being in the days gone by. He will be glad to meet you at any time, day or night, to have you stop and break bread with him, in doing which you will probably encounter some of the old timers from the Point, for to them the traditions of the "Old Wisconsin" are sacred, and many make pilgrimages to Blood's place to throw aside the weight of years to again live in the past.

GREAT ACTIVITY AMONG BOWLERS

"Never since I have managed these alleys have I seen so much interest and enthusiasm displayed at the opening of a bowling season than at the present time," remarked Thomas Lawrence, proprietor of Rhinelander's only bowling alleys at 116 S. Stevens street.

"All the old bowlers have been quick to get into action again, and many new fans are observed taking their first taste of the sport. The season promises to be the best in the history of the game here."

Mr. Lawrence stated that the work of organizing teams will begin within a few weeks so that when cold weather sets in everything will be in readiness for the numerous contests which will occupy the alleys throughout the winter. A series of matches with outside teams will also be arranged and a mid-winter tournament is one of the possibilities. At all matches visitors will be cordially received and special seating accommodations will be provided for them.

The Lawrence bowling alleys are among the finest set of regulation alleys to be found anywhere in the country. They are splendidly equipped and constantly kept in first class condition.

SOO LINE SHOWS LARGE EARNINGS

Gross earnings of the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie railroad company for the fiscal year ending June 30, totalled $35,019,051.15 or $7,216,839.35 more than for the preceding year, according to the annual report made public Monday and which was submitted by President Edmund Pennington at the annual directors' meeting at Minneapolis Tuesday.

Net earnings of the system were $15,928,955.86, an increase of $5,977,141.87. The surplus income increased $5,115,693.21. The increased earnings of the road are due principally to the big crop of 1915 and heavy shipments of iron ore, the report says, adding that the gross earnings are largest in the company's history.

CASSIAN

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Olson are the happy parents of a baby boy who arrived the 12th inst. Ira Smith departed for Superior Tuesday afternoon to attend the adjourned session of federal court, as a juror.

Relatives of the Ossmans and Eatons visited at their respective homes from Friday till Monday. They were from Almond and made the trip by auto.

Miss Minnie Raab came down from Maddens' resort at Minocqua Thursday and visited at the Smith home till Saturday before going to her home at Pleasant Ridge Farm. John Raab has taken Clarence Raab's place at a resort near Minocqua, while Clarence will hustle the work on the farm.

Mrs. Hancock, of Sparta, mother of Mrs. John Garber is visiting her relatives at Cassian and Heaford Junction.

Mrs. George Garber and children expect to depart for their home in Hamilton, Mont. this week.

ORE CARS LEAVE RAILS

Train service from the north over the Northwestern line was crippled to some extent Friday owing to the wreck of an ore train near Odanah. Fifty loaded cars being transported from Ironwood to Ashland were derailed, tearing up about one mile of track. Many of the cars were damaged.

GOOD FRUIT CROP

According to Rhinelander fruit dealers the grape crop this year is good. Concord grapes from Michigan are on the market and the price has been as low as 25 cents per basket. Price conditions are better than a year ago. Grapes are not raised in this section and the stock is shipped in from Michigan, New York and other points.

The pear crop is also reported good and a plentiful supply of this delicious fruit is available.

Many orchards show good crops of apples and the early varieties are beginning to appear upon the markets.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE

Adopted by Oneida Council No. 41 F. R. A. Rhinelander. Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty Ruler to remove from our midst, one of our worthy brothers, DELMAR A. MOE.

Be it therefore resolved, That we humbly bow ourselves to the one above in his wisdom and rulings, also that we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved widow, Sister Moe and her children. Further resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days and that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our meeting, one sent to the bereaved family and one to our local papers and to the F. R. A. Messenger for publication.

ONEIDA COUNTY FOR HIM

An Indiana man, who four years ago located on a piece of land in the western part of the county sold to him by C. P. Crosby, declares that prosperity has been with him since coming to this section. His crops have been good and he has also ventured into dairying on a small scale with favorable results. Not only has this settler paid entirely for his farm but has started a little bank account which promises a healthy growth. Oneida county for me first, last and always, says this former Hoosier.

Lester Byrns is here from Detroit visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Byrns.

RAILWAY PRESIDENT HERE

R. H. Ashton, president of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company and one of the best known railroad men in the country, passed through Rhinelander Monday on a tour of inspection of the Ashland division. He was accompanied by C. J. Quigley, division superintendent, and other officials. The party went to Ashland where they looked over the site of the monster new ore dock to be erected there.

Postmaster Matt Stapleton will be in Milwaukee September 27 and 28 in attendance at the annual convention of Wisconsin postmasters.

THE POTATO HARVEST

The latest government statement confirms the report, if any confirmation was needed, that the potato crop of Wisconsin will be light. The average yearly yield of potatoes in Wisconsin since 1910 has been a little upwards of $52,000,000 bushels. The prospect this year, according to the government estimate, is only about 20,000,000 bushels. On September 1 the average price of potatoes throughout the United States was a little more than $1 per bushel.

FINE HOME SITE

The Paul Brownie farm, now called "Highland View" is being given a cleaning preparatory to being subdivided.

Nothing, Kahler & Co., the purchasers of the property, have a large force of men and teams at work, removing stumps, underbrush and fallen trees. The surveyors have nearly finished their field work and will shortly begin to plat the property laying out winding streets and boulevards, and these will, whenever possible, follow depressions in order to have the wooded knolls for homes.

There are more beautiful sites for homes on this property than can be found on any tract of the same size in this country. A magnificent view for miles stretches away from every elevation on the land, and presents a picture of beauty and grandeur seldom surpassed. It is worth the time of everybody to visit this exceptional part of the city and get acquainted with its beauty.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

In memory of Delmar Alfred Moe, who died Sept. 14th, 1916. Once again death hath summoned a Brother Odd Fellow, and the golden gateway to the Eternal City has opened to welcome him to his home. He has completed his work in the ministering to the wants of the afflicted, in shedding light into darkened souls and in bringing joy into the places of misery, and as his reward has received the plaudit, "well done," from the Supreme Master.

And Whereas, The all-wise and merciful Father has called our beloved and respected Brother home.

And Whereas, He having been a true and faithful Brother of our Mystic Order therefore be it

Resolved, That Oneida Lodge No. 48 I. O. O. F. Rhinelander, Wis., in testimony of her loss tenders to the family of the deceased Brother our sincere condolence in this deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

MAY RETURN SOON

Gen. Orlando Holway says: "I think that the Wisconsin regiments will return home, to the state within ten days after the return from the Austin hike. Either this or they will stay in the south all winter. Most of the troops are from the northern states and a demobilization in the winter months would require at least ten days at the state camps. Few states have facilities to care for the men at the camps during the cold weather."

TEACHERS CAN AID COMMUNITY

The rural school teacher is urged by State Supt. C. P. Cary to take an interest in community life and not allow herself to be engulfed in "petty social ways, parties, dances and the like." The complete statement is being sent to all of the school teachers of the state.

"You will find so much to do that the world is not half long enough," says Mr. Cary. "You will discover the world is full of lonesome people. They will want the sunshine you can spread about you. Upon the hill is a farmer's wife, she longs for a bit of relief that you can give from the dull grind of daily toil. Here is a farmer who for years has toiled to transfer a pine forest into a farm. He is proud of his work and longs for appreciation. Boys and girls who have already dropped out of school want your appreciation and your help. They may at first want to absorb you in petty social ways—parties, dances and the like. But if you have a purpose and exercise skill you will be able to absorb them in larger plans that will rouse their ambitions and train them for a larger life."

MORE BADGERS TO BORDER SERVICE

Various guard organizations encamped at Camp Douglas are waiting orders from Washington to leave for the border. It is reported from the war department that all troops held at state mobilization points will be sent to Texas shortly. Maj. Williams of the Wisconsin guard said the men are ready to go when orders are received.

It is believed that the sending of more troops to the border will be made to release many who have been in service there for the last three months.

NEW LUMBER TOWN GROWING RAPIDLY

To spring from a wilderness to a village of 500 or 600 people is to be the experience of White Lake, Langlade county, the location of the Yawkey-Bissel company's new mill, states the Antigo Journal. A force of about 100 men are now engaged in clearing the land, erecting buildings, staking out sites for mill, warehouses, surveying lines for railroad spurs, and doing such other work connected with the establishment of a village. It is a busy place, and according to W. G. Gamble, who is in charge of all work the new mill will be in operation by the first of December.

Mr. Gamble states that between 75 and 80 houses will be erected at White Lake for the accommodation of the families that will move there. A large boarding house is now being erected for the accommodation of those who have no families. A store will be erected and other adjuncts added that will make it take on an appearance and have the dimensions of a modern little city. The Wisconsin & Northern railway has taken its depot from Van Ostrand and moved it to White Lake, and the North Western will also soon have a station there. The two roads cross near the site of the village. Every convenience in the way of side tracks for switching will be built by the lumber company, and they will use their own engines. The water in the lake will be raised about five feet in order that tracks can be laid so logs can be dumped into the lake from the cars. This will necessitate the building of another highway around a portion of the lake, as the raising of the water will flood the present highway.

FIVE GAMES AT MADISON

All but two of the seven football games scheduled for the University of Wisconsin team this fall will be played at Madison. Work on the new field and stadium is being rushed and the last two games of the season will be played on the home field although the entire stadium will not be completed at that time. Dr. Paul Withington, the new football coach, will arrive next week, and regular practices will begin immediately.

The annual Wisconsin "Home Coming" will be held in connection with the Chicago game on Oct. 28. This is expected to be the biggest game of the season and will be the first to be played on the new field.

The schedule of games is as follows:

- Oct. 7, Lawrence College at Madison
- Oct. 14, South Dakota College at Madison
- Oct. 21, Haskell Indians at Madison
- Oct. 28, Chicago at Madison
- Nov. 4, Ohio State College at Columbus
- Nov. 11, no game
- Nov. 18, Minnesota at Minneapolis
- Nov. 25, Illinois at Madison

"For the cause that lacks assistance;
For the wrong that needs resistance;
For the future in the distance
And the good that we can do."

The will to do invariably sees that it is done.

You never have to speak twice to start a knocker to going.

Occasionally, however, some one resurrects the subject of national defense.

Every man is supposed to be the architect of his own fortune, but many of them forget to build.

Oneida won first prize on potatoes at the Wisconsin state fair. Pretty good advertising for the county, is it not?

The Oneida county booth was one of the most attractive in the county buildings at the state fair and secured ninth place. Not a bad showing for a county which is comparatively new in the agricultural field.

The game to get Anderson into the assembly race so Rogers would win out over our own county candidate, Mr. Smith, does not seem to be turning out exactly as it was planned.

Three candidates ran for assemblyman in this assembly district, two progressives and one stalwart. Each of the progressive candidates got about the same vote as the stalwart. It surely does not indicate a very strong stalwart sentiment in this district.

Charles E. Hughes, republican candidate for president, had a great reception on his trip through Wisconsin. If the enthusiasm displayed by the people is any indication as to his vote in November, he will get a large vote in the Badger State for President of the United States.

Any person is at liberty to make what he can, or what pleases his fancy, out of the results. Our own opinion is that they indicate little if anything. They certainly do not show a reaction against President Wilson, for the Democratic vote has increased the second time during his term—Green Bay Press-Gazette, Ind.

The platform conventions of all parties met in Madison Tuesday to formulate the platforms of the different parties. All were a foregone conclusion except the republican. No man seemed to know what would be the outcome in the republican body but to the surprise of all factions everybody was engaged and everybody is to be elected and we believe this will be about the condition of things after election.

As we look back over the many Democratic victories in the last six years, it has all come about through the avarice of the Standpat Republicans who believed that the people did not know what they wanted and it remained for a few of the select to tell them. They woke up finally and found that the people knew exactly what they wanted and had determined to elect the Progressive Democrats instead of the Hale-Aldrich type of Republicans.

PUSH GOOD THINGS ALONG
When you see or hear of a good thing, push it along. Push it as hard as you can and it will go along.

You can accomplish wonders for your country by following such a course. It is the only way to get things done.

A few pushers can do some things and can accomplish a few results, but it requires the efforts of a united people to make a dent in the world.

Let's all get together and make the dent.

MORE ILLEGALITY BY PARKER

The canvassing board was County Clerk Verage, Register of Deeds Davis and Superintendent of Highways F. E. Parker. We fail to see why Mr. Parker should have sat on that board. He is paid by the year as superintendent of highways and has no legal right to draw pay from the county for other services at the same time. This is not the first time Mr. Parker has sat on that board and drawn pay for his services as a member and at the same time drawn a salary as superintendent of highways. The quickness of such illegal practices are stopped, the quicker Oneida county as a county will come into her own.

To the Teachers of Oneida County:
I have sent you the NEW Manual of the Elementary Course of Study and a large expense to the county because it is invaluable to you in your work. It is by far the most valuable book ever issued by the State Department. It is invaluable for the subject matter, and it is also valuable for methods. When I visit your schools, I wish to see the outline of this Manual reflected in your outlines, in your methods. Yes, in the making out of your very programs, I shall judge you as a teacher to a large extent, by your familiarity with and your use of this New School Manual.

Yours truly,
F. A. LOWELL,
County Superintendent.

WHO IS THE NOMINEE?

We regret that the assembly nomination of this district is so close. It is too close for people to be satisfied. Last week Wednesday our county clerk sent a written statement to Douglas Anderson that the official count gave Anderson 483, Rogers 279 and Smith 633. This would nominate Anderson by one vote over Rogers and would stand Anderson 825, Rogers 821 and Smith 779.

Thursday noon the county clerk gave out the same figures but Thursday afternoon the figures changed to give Rogers 280, Anderson 487. This would nominate Rogers over Anderson by one vote. This change was made in the town of Schoepke by the canvassing board counting a vote for Rogers which they say they found in the tally sheet but the town clerk of Schoepke makes an affidavit no such line was intended, and the count as first interpreted is correct.

A town in Forest county gave more votes for assemblyman than there were republicans voting and this we understand will also be taken up by the state canvassing board. We wish the man who actually got the votes to be the regular republican nominee. No manipulating of figures should be countenanced.

THE HUGHES CAMPAIGN

While Candidate Hughes is keeping a discreet silence on the one big issue of this campaign, his views on the problems facing this country as the results of the war in Europe, articles abusing President Wilson for not protesting against the violation of Belgian neutrality and for not breaking off relations with Germany after the sinking of the Lusitania, are being sent out from the headquarters of the Republican national committee.

The latest bulletin of the Hughes Campaign Service, issued from the chairman's office of the Republican National committee, 511 Fifth-ave, New York, contains an article by Joseph H. Choat, former ambassador to England, who recently said at a dinner of the Pilgrims in New York:

"I am in constant daily and nightly sympathy with the allies, and I believe 90,000,000 of the 100,000,000 people in this country are in sympathy with them."

VALUE OF EDUCATION

"Every day spent in school the children earn nine dollars."

This statement was made by State Superintendent C. P. Cary at the recent meeting of the supervising heads of schools of the state at Madison, and he bases his estimate on the official records of the bureau of education at Washington. Here is what he offers as proof of the statement:

"Uneducated laborers earn on the average $300 per year for forty years, a total of $20,000."

High school graduates earn on the average $1,000 per year for forty years, a total of $40,000."

"This education requires twelve years of school of 180 days each, a total of 2,160 days in the school. If 2,160 days at school adds $20,000 to the income for life then each day at school adds $9.02."

"Forceful as this summarization of earnings is it tells but one side of the story—the money side. Back of this can be seen improved standards of living, more intelligent and progressive communities and a stronger national life. To what extent do communities recognize these facts?"

"If it recognizes them fully irregular attendance would be reduced to a minimum. Wisconsin city superintendents show that this is not the case in many cities and that there is a laxity of attendance that ought to be overcome. The comparative attendance data for cities for the years 1914-15 show that of $4,639 children between the ages of seven and fourteen years, 65,479 attended 100 days had legal excuses and were justified in their absence."

Mr. Cary shows that children are not attending regularly."

INCOME TAXES LARGER

Madison, Sept. 19.—That the returns under the state income tax law will be larger this year than last year and from present indications will be larger next year than ever before was the gist of a statement made by Nels P. Haugen, chairman of the state tax commission today.

"While the returns have not all been compiled the figures indicate that during the last part of the year 1915 manufacturers were particularly prosperous and this prosperity shows in the amount of income subject to taxation," said Mr. Haugen. "It may be, however, that the increase in the tax will come largely from the corporations, as this prosperity had scarcely reached the individual by that time. The returns are now being tabulated in the different counties of the state for the individual income taxes and these results will soon be available."

Mr. Haugen said that from the standpoint of the manufacturer the year 1916 has been unusually prosperous and when it comes to collect the tax of the earnings of the corporations for the year 1916 he believes the results will show that the tax will be the largest collected since the law was put into effect.

TOO MANY SET WEEKS

The Stevens Point Journal strikes the nail on the head when it states that the tendency of the American people seems to be to run every movement to excess.

One example of this is found in the special days and weeks that have been multiplying late years. Formerly a few good old general holidays sufficed to satisfy the needs of the people but now it is "Baby Week" and "Pay-Up Week" and "Tuberculosis Week" and "Candy Day" and "Apple Day" and so on ad infinitum. GET THE INSIDE TRACK

Give the Boy or Girl a Good Start
Mr. Parent:

It is now the beginning of the school year, and it is up to you to decide whether you wish to give your boy a chance in after life or not. Below are some of the figures compiled from statistics prepared by Charles L. Harper of the State Department. Read them and decide to send the boy to school:

Have you ever been to a county or state fair? Why of course! Did you ever notice how anxious every driver is to get the inside of the track and a good start? Why of course you have, and you know as well as the drivers know a big chance of winning the money depends on the start and every driver should be keen to have his horse come ahead under the wire. Quite natural this, isn't it? Say, folks, why not apply this same spirit and logic to the race your boy or girl is to make in this life? You want your children to win, do you not? Sure. Then get them into the game ready for the competition.

Here are some figures, dollars of course, that tell you a mighty interesting story. Read it and think it over. Two large groups of boys were selected in a large city—say a hundred or a thousand in each group. One group left school at 14 years of age and the other group left at 18 years. They were all wage earners and the career of each group was followed up to 25 years. Note the difference in results. Did four additional years in school pay?

Average earning at

16	250
18	350
20	475

16	0
18	$500
20	750
22	1,000

21 ----- 1,150

25 ----- 1,500

Just figure out these results, think things over, determine what kind of a start you want your boys and girls to have. Get them into the game and see to it that this is for them a first year in every way. Be a booster for your school, your children and your teacher.

The Moss Troopers

Moss troopers was the name given to the desperate plunderers and robbers who secreted themselves throughout the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries in the "mosses" on the borders of Scotland. These outlaws were largely made up of deserters and criminals from the armies of England and the continent, and their depredations and cruelties were the terror of the region infested by them. Many severe laws were passed against them, but they were not fairly exterminated until the eighteenth century.

Blackbird Days

Jan. 30 and 31 and Feb. 1 are famous at Constantinople, Brescia and along the Danube and the Rhine as the "blackbird days." A curious legend says that originally all species of grackles (blackbirds) were white and that they became black because during one year in the middle ages the three days mentioned above were so cold that all the birds in Europe took refuge in the chimneys. At Brescia the three days are celebrated with a feast called "I giorni della merla" or "the feast of the transformation of the bird."

No Precaution Neglected

The little son of a clergyman recently appeared at breakfast with distinct evidences of a hastily made toilet.

"Why, Edmund," his mother remonstrated, "I believe you forgot to brush your hair!"

"I was in such a hurry to get to school," he explained.

"I hope you didn't forget to say your prayers?" she asked anxiously.

"No, sirree!" was the emphatic assurance. "That's one thing I never forget. Safety first!"—Harper's Magazine.

GOOD COMPANIONS.

It makes no difference, in looking back five years, how you have been dieted or dressed or lodged, whether you have had gardens or baths, have been carried in a neat equipage or in a ridiculous truck. These things are forgotten quickly and leave no effect. But it counts much whether we have had good companions in that time almost as much as what we have been doing.—Emerson.

Site of the White House

The site for the president's palace, as the first maps name it, was selected by President Washington and Major L'Enfant when they laid out the federal city in 1792. They purposed to have the president's house and the capitol reciprocally close to the long vista formed by Pennsylvania avenue, and they also laid out a parklike connection between the two great buildings. The plans for the house, selected by Washington and Jefferson as the result of a competition in which L'Enfant took part, were drawn by James Hoban, a native of Dublin and a medal man of the Society of Architects.

Beauty and the Beast

A well known churchman was visiting New York, accompanied by his wife, who is as beautiful as her mate is homely. They were walking down Broadway one afternoon, and the pair attracted much attention. Of two young "sports," evidently trying to attract the favorable attention of the churchman's wife, in an aside remarked that it was another case of "the beauty and the beast." Quick as a wink the husband turned, and as he swung his right to the speaker's jaw, scoring a knock-out, said, "I am a man of peace, but I allow any one to call my wife a beast."

NEWS NOTES FROM NEARBY CITIES

New London.—Visitors to the Hortonville fair were given a great thrill when the parachute on a balloon which carried Mrs. G. E. Stuart, a professional flyer, failed to work and the woman was carried about three miles across country, finally landing in an open field. She escaped with nothing more than a few minor bruises and scratches. The balloon left the earth in a leisurely fashion and went up to a great height before the woman's husband, standing on the ground below, gave the signal to cut loose. The ropes were water soaked however, and the parachute refused to open and leave the balloon basket. The man signalled again but no response came from the balloon. Suddenly the great machine got into the teeth of the wind and began traveling toward the north at a great rate of speed. The husband jumped into an automobile and easily distanced the machine. The balloon began to come down after it had gone about 2½ miles and a half mile further on it struck the earth and the woman released herself.

Hurley.—Judge G. N. Risjord in a decision rendered on Sept. 13th disallowed the petition for the incorporation of the village of Hurley out of territory in the towns of Vaughan and Cary, which he has had under consideration since the June term of circuit court. In his decision Judge Risjord is of the opinion that the territory asked to be included in the proposed village was entirely too extensive and that such a large extent of territory was not really necessary for the present and prospective growth of Hurley as a village or a city and further that the proposed plan does not come within the limitations of the law.

Ladysmith.—Through a deal which was closed last week, all of the stock of the A. W. Schram Manufacturing Co., except about $3,200, has become the property of local men, making the plant a strictly Ladysmith institution. The plant under the management of O. J. Lutter, is in a flourishing condition, having thirty-three employees at work, and orders on hand to keep running until February or March. The output would be considerably increased but for the fact that there is a shortage of electric power during the evening. The lighting company is unable to furnish sufficient current during the time when the greatest number of lights are on. Installation of the new machinery and other construction work has continued since the beginning of the operation of the plant, upward of $10,000, having been added to the plant during that time. If business continues to increase as it has during the summer, it will be necessary to double the capacity of the plant next year.

Ashland.—One of the most complete branch houses in the northwest is to be erected in this city by Armour & Company at a cost of $10,000. The present building will be demolished. Bids were received in the Chicago office of the company Friday day and the contract will be let this week. This week practically brings to an end one of the most successful summer tourist seasons Ashland, Bayfield and the Apostle Islands have enjoyed for several years. Throughout the three warm months, June, July and August, the resorters on the island have entertained hundreds of people. Most of them have returned to their homes, many having gone two weeks ago on account of the threatened railroad strike and many others went during the past week to be home with their children for the opening of schools.

Eagle River.—A wide open fair, without admittance charges or entry fees, featured the first annual exhibition of the Vilas County Agricultural society. Over fifty head of pure bred and grade dairy cattle were shown in the judges' ring, the emphasis being put upon the community industry, dairying. As the undertaking was unique in being free to exhibitors of live stock, and without gate receipts, the success of the undertaking is particularly gratifying. The attendance was large.

LITTLE CHATS ABOUT POULTRY

(By G. E. Conkey)

The close culling of growing stock is extremely valuable if you wish to upbuild your flock, yet most poultry raisers do not seem to realize the important part this practice plays in improving the stock and at the same time increasing profits. Consequently, culling is not given the attention it deserves.

Whether you are in the fancy poultry business or if you simply keep chickens for commercial purposes, this subject deserves your earnest attention for you will make little real headway in the improvement of your flock or attain any great success in the business unless you cull constantly.

Most beginners cannot see the necessity of this weeding-out process, or if they cull at all they don't cull closely enough; because they hate to see any pullets go. Make a rule not to allow sentiment to interfere with your selecting only the best. Don't save a single poor specimen.

Start this selecting or culling with the newly hatched chicks and keep it up throughout the entire growing period. You'll find it doesn't pay to bother with any chicks that are not lively and normal in every way and the best plan is to dispose of these at once. Weak chicks usually get weaker as they grow older and are likely to be carried away with some minor ailment. Doctoring and fussing with weaklings will rob you of much time that could be put to a better purpose, and besides just a few of these off specimens will make a flock look very unsightly.

When defects are slight and not of a nature to interfere with the natural movements or growth of the chick and when there is plenty of room, such birds can be retained and marketed as broilers but any defective chicks that are not killed at once should be marked in some way so that they can always be distinguished from the others later on and so avoid any possibility of their ever getting into the breeding pens.

When your chicks are two months old you can make a second culling and after that continue with the work every month or two until the birds are fully grown. Cripples do not improve as a matter of fact, most all defects are intensified with age. It is not difficult for you to pick out chicks that have a crooked spine or breast bone, uneven hips, or a roach or humped back, wry tail, deformed beak, poor feet or weak legs and all these should be placed by themselves and prepared for the market. In most every flock there are a few chicks that do not keep up to the rest in growth or have a real thrifty appearance and these should always go into the cull class for when a chick is once stunted it can never entirely make up the lost ground and it is sure to be undersized when grown. A weak head, long pointed beak, small eyes, or narrow body with a flat breast all indicate some weakness or general debility and make the specimen eligible for the cull class.

You need not necessarily discard young fowls for failure to show correct feathering while growing because the feathers are continually changing and early defects do not always appear in the mature coat. If you want to do much culling for color before the last coat is grown you should have considerable experience with the breed being handled.

The fancier who has only a limited area for raising chickens may, by culling closely during the growth of his chicks, hatch a far greater number than could otherwise be done. This means there will be more birds to choose from at the end of the season and the general quality of those to be retained either for sale or breeding will be raised.

However, do not take this to mean that culling is any the less important for the commercial plant or with laying birds. The successful poultryman of today is the one who pays particular attention to close culling and the proper selection of his breeding stock and if you want to make the most of your poultry business you cannot afford to disregard these features. Start to cull now if you have neglected to do so earlier and don't spare a single bird that fails to measure up to a certain standard of quality. If you will be thorough in this and then note the all around improvement that is sure to follow it is not likely you will be wasting much time on culls another season.

SELF RELIANCE

At the Congregational church Sunday Sept. 21st the pastor, Walter C. Heyl, will speak on the topic "Self Reliance". The attendance at the morning service is greatly increasing. A large audience is expected Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. All the members will make a special effort to support this service. Friends and strangers welcome.

George Hanson left Saturday for a week's vacation in Milwaukee Chicago and eastern cities.

Sam says:

"One day a pal o' mine handed me his package of NIGGER HAIR Long Cut an' I loaded my old pipe and smoked up on it."

"Afterwards he gave me a whalin' big chew of it. Both ways it was richer, sweeter and mellow than any other tobacco I ever used."

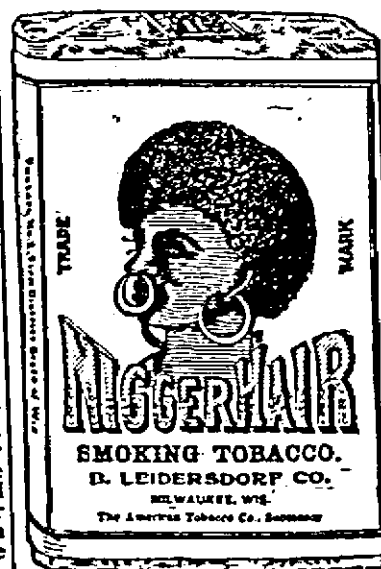

"From that day NIGGER HAIR has been my brand, 'cause it's real Long Cut and gives me real satisfaction."

RHINELANDER WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION
Press Committee: Mrs. Howe, Mrs. C. P. Crosby, Mrs. W. D. Brown, Mrs. C. P. Crosby, Mrs. W. D. Brown.

A very interesting meeting was held Friday night, at the McLaughlin school house in the town of Crescent. The room was filled with people from nearby farms, and a few also went out from Rhinelander. Mr. Mackin, Principal of the Training school, made a short but very interesting address, followed by a rousing temperance talk by Rev. Fred Wedge. At the close a petition, asking that the Lake Julia saloon obey the state law regarding Sunday closing was presented. All but a very few in the audience signed this petition. The following day it was put in the hands of the District Attorney, who was to give it to the sheriff with orders to see that the saloon is closed Sundays hereafter. We often hear that prohibition doesn't prohibit. Isn't it equally true that regulation doesn't regulate. There are over fifty state laws endeavoring to regulate the saloon business and it is safe to say almost every saloon breaks at least one of these laws every day. If the Wisconsin laws were enforced there probably wouldn't be a saloon left running in the state.

It is against the law to have a saloon within 300 feet of a school building, and still we are told that at Three Lakes there is a saloon much nearer than that.

It is against the law to sell, barter or give away liquor to an Indian, we all know how well this law is observed. It is against the law to sell or give away liquor to a minor or to any person intoxicated or bordering on a state of intoxication. If the latter part of this law was observed we would see no reeling men on our streets.

The state even has laws endeavoring to oblige officials to enforce the law. Citizens who would like to see these and other important laws not quoted, enforced would be saved much time and trouble if the following law was observed:

44. Officers to make complaint. Sec. 1153, (Ch. 371, 1909). Every sheriff, undersheriff and deputy sheriff, police officer, marshal, deputy marshal or constable of any town, village or city who shall know or be credibly informed that any offense has been committed against the provisions of any law of this state relating to excise or the sale of intoxicating liquors shall make complaint against the person so offending with their respective towns, villages or cities to a proper justice of the peace thereof, and for every neglect or refusal so to do, every officer shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished not exceeding fifty dollars and the costs of prosecution.

While the officers do not appear to go out of their way to enforce the Sunday closing law they have always given the order immediately after a petition has been presented. This means considerable work but the county is now nearly covered. Fortunately we have six townships unencumbered with saloons. Calls for help are beginning to come in from towns in adjoining counties and arrangements are under way for mass meetings at Eagle River and Antigo.

PUBLISH SOIL SURVEY RESULTS

The United States Department of Agriculture will shortly publish the results of the reconnaissance soil survey of the north part of north central Wisconsin including Oneida county, recently made by the bureau of soils in co-operation with the Wisconsin Geological and natural history survey. The report, which contains 76 printed pages and a number of illustrations, in addition to a map showing in colors the location and extent of the various soils encountered will be published in the form of advance sheets of field operations of the bureau of soils.

The region surveyed is located in the extreme northern part of the state and comprises an area of 4,419 square miles, or 2,828,160 acres, including all of Vilas, Oneida, Price and Iron Counties and small parts of Ashland and Rusk counties.

SURE THING PROPOSITION

No betting on the presidential election as yet, but here's a sure thing proposition that ought to make a hit with the bookies and the sharpsters.

Get your confiding friend and tell him that you'll make a bet that neither Wilson nor Hughes will be the next president of the United States. Here's the catch:

March 4 falls on Sunday next year. Both Wilson and Marshall are retired at midnight under the constitution. The inauguration of the next executive cannot be held until Monday, therefore Robert Lansing, secretary of state, will be president on March 4, 1917, by right of succession. Mason-Donaldson Co. Planing
Plant Is One Of Best
In Country

Work on the construction of the Mason-Donaldson Lumber company's new planing mill in this city is moving rapidly and according to present plans the plant will be ready for operation October 1.

The mill, which is located on the site of the old Conro planing mill is one of the most modern and best equipped planing mill plants in the country. The machinery which is of the most modern type, consists of two big band saws, two fast feed machines, one surfacer and one notcher, one ordinary notcher, one molder and one rip saw. Electric power is used throughout, each machine being supplied with a separate motor.

The mill has a capacity of seven or eight cars of lumber per day.

This new industry will furnish employment to about thirty men at good wages. George Plude of Grand Rapids, Mich., has been engaged as superintendent.

Site of the White House.

The site for the president's palace,
as the first maps name it, was selected by President Washington and Major L'Enfant when they laid out the federal city in 1792. They purposed to have the president's house and the capitol reciprocally close to the long vista formed by Pennsylvania avenue, and they also laid out a parklike connection between the two great buildings. The plans for the house, selected by Washington and Jefferson as the result of a competition in which L'Enfant took part, were drawn by James Hoban, a native of Dublin and a medal man of the Society of Arts of that city.

Disraeli as a Dandy.

At the age of nineteen Benjamin Disraeli is described as wearing a black velvet suit with ruffles and black stockings with red clocks. A later portrait, in 1829, comes from a friend's diary,
which has the following entry:

"March 23.—B. D. to dine with me.
He came up Regent street when it was crowded in his blue surcoat, a pair of military light blue trousers, black stockings with red stripes and shoes.

"The people," he said, "quite made way for me as I passed. It was like the opening of the Red sea, which I now perfectly believe from experience. Even well dressed people stopped to look at me."

Butchers of Olden Times.

The Butchers' company can boast of respectable antiquity, for it figures among the "adulterine guilds" fined in 1150 for not being duly licensed. It received a formal charter of incorporation during the reign of James I., and down to the middle of the last century exercised wide authority over the meat trade of London. A butcher caught selling mutton for lamb was heavily fined, while if he sold tainted meat, even in hot weather, he was put in the pillory, where his meat was burned under him. The Butchers' can claim closer connection with English literature than most city companies, for two centuries ago Daniel Defoe was a free man of this guild.—London Mirror.

BORROWING TROUBLE.

Worrying over tomorrow's troubles is borrowing trouble. It is impossible to lift the ton weight at one time, but lesser parts of it may be easily carried until the whole load has been conveyed to its destination. So the burdens of a lifetime cannot be borne if crowded into a single day.

Powder on a Slipper Sole.

The best method of applying face powder is to spank it on with a lamb's-wool-lined sole such as is used in worsted bedroom slippers.

SAW MILL STARTS

The saw mill of the Collins Lumber company, which has been closed since June 10, resumed operations today. The plant has been thoroughly overhauled and new boilers and other equipment installed. For the time being the mill will operate days only, but will put on a night shift just as soon as there is a sufficient log supply on hand. Several camps will be operated by the company the coming winter.

Relatival.

Employer—How dare you tell me you can't live on your salary? You haven't a car, have you? Employee—No, sir.

Employer—So, what? Every fellow who really can't live on his salary has a car.—New York Globe.
